Reflection

One of the readings set for this week is a passage from the Book of Jonah, where Jonah proclaims God's call for repentance to the King and people of Nineveh. Much to Jonah's surprise and disgust, the people of Nineveh, led by their King, repent of their sin and turn to God. This is absolutely not what Jonah wanted! He wanted the hated city to suffer for its sins and be utterly destroyed. But God's plan and his mercy towards those who repent is infinite. Meanwhile, Jonah is stuck in the very human spirit of bitterness, vengefulness and hatred. How hard it is for us to forgive others! How hard it is for us to forgive ourselves! But the message of Jesus Christ is that we and others are forgiven, whatever we might think to the contrary, if we are ready to repent and turn to the Kingdom of God.

Revd Richard
