Reflection

How well do we know the Bible? We all know bits of the Bible, of course. But because we usually read the Bible as short passages on Sundays, we may have a limited idea about how it all fits together. Asked to give a sense of the grand sweep and meaning of the Bible many of us may struggle. And that's ok! The Bible Course, which starts next Saturday 26 September at 11.30am in the Minster Vestry, helps to address this. Rather than being a detailed Bible study of particular books or passages, it intends to equip you with a sense of the Bible's big story and meaning from beginning to end. Do come along and join in this pilgrimage of Bible discovery! (All welcome and no previous knowledge required).
